A Tribute to Prof. Chimah Ezeomah

By

Prof. Bashir Haruna Usman

Executive Secretary

National Commission for Nomadic Education (NCNE), Kaduna

Today, we pay tribute to a trailblazer in education, Prof. Chimah Ezeomah, whose groundbreaking work has left an indelible mark on the lives of countless individuals. As a renowned expert in nomadic education, Prof. Ezeomah's contributions have been instrumental in shaping the educational landscape of Nigeria.

A Pioneer in Nomadic Education

Prof. Ezeomah's dedication to promoting education among nomadic communities has been exemplary. His research on the Fulani people of Northern Nigeria has provided valuable insights into the unique challenges faced by nomadic populations. His work has inspired a new generation of educators and policymakers to prioritize inclusive education.

A Distinguished Career

Prof. Ezeomah's academic and professional career spans decades, with notable positions held at the University of Jos, where he served as a pioneer Director of the Nomadic Education Centre. He was also the inaugural Executive Secretary of the National Commission for Nomadic Education (NCNE), where he played a pivotal role in shaping the commission's direction and objectives.

Legacy

Prof. Ezeomah's legacy extends beyond his academic achievements. He inspired countless individuals through his work, and his commitment to education has left a lasting impact on Nigeria's educational landscape. His contributions have been recognized, and he was honoured with the esteemed chieftaincy title of "Ardo" by the Fulani Pastoralists.

A Lasting Impact

As we celebrate Prof. Ezeomah's life and achievements, we remember his tireless efforts to promote education among marginalized communities. His work will continue to inspire and empower generations to come. May his legacy serve as a beacon of hope and a reminder of the transformative power of education.

May Prof. Chimah Ezeomah's soul rest in peace.
